Novel Study:

Our novel study, "The Giver" by Lois Lowry is still in the beginning stages. We have started a word wall to help with some of the vocabulary and are continuing lots of oral discussion along with the written answers in the Notebook online. Students have access to the novel online as well and can review the chapters we have read at any time by accessing their grand-erie Office365 email from home.

Math:

Continuing with Math Talks and learning Estimation skills are helping with our basics in numeracy. Continued practice through online game-style websites is boosting accuracy and self-confidence. Life skills applications such as cooking and purchasing items on outings have been great tools to show where more learning needs to focus.
