

Resources for Families & Educators – 13 Reasons Why

The Netflix series 13 Reasons Why is graphic and potentially triggering for vulnerable young people. Because some youth may have questions, the following suggestions may be of help:

Explain the Series' use of Dramatic Effect: Explain that this series is a fictional drama with many unrealistic elements. Youth commonly identify with TV or movie characters and may share similar experiences and thoughts. There are healthier ways to cope with these feelings than the ways depicted for dramatic effect.

Clarify misinformation in the series:

- Suicide and the reasons for it are complex. Most people who die by suicide live with a mental illness, but not all people with these struggles have suicidal thoughts or behavior. Effective treatments do help people struggling with a mental illness.
- Suicide is not a common response to life's challenges. Most people who face bullying, the death of a friend or other adversities depicted in the series do not die by suicide. Most reach out, talk to others, seek help and find productive ways to cope. They go on to lead healthy lives.
- Asking for help and receiving support is a "protective" factor for someone with emotional difficulties, meaning that it can protect them from self-harm.
- Suicide is never heroic or romantic. The fictional death by suicide in the series is a cautionary tale not meant to be viewed as heroic.
- The death of a person by suicide is never the fault of survivors of a suicide loss. There are resources and support groups for suicide loss survivors.

Encourage Healthy Coping: Youth should be made aware that periods of stress or mental distress are normal. Encourage healthy ways to cope with stress such as exercise, reading a book, listening to music, talking with friends, enjoying nature and more. Demonstrate healthy coping and care for yourself. Visit the Recharge section at www.granderie.ca/bewell for more healthy coping strategies.

Encourage Help Seeking: Note the inaccurate way that the series depicts school guidance counselors. These staff are caring, trustworthy professionals who are a source of help. Other helpers include family members, teachers, coaches and friends as long as an adult is also involved.

If you have concerns about your child, please speak with your school principal or contact a local crisis line listed in the Don't Wait section at www.granderie.ca/bewell or Kids Help Phone (www.kidshelpphone.ca or 1-800-668-6868).

Local Crisis Lines are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Kids Help Phone:
1.800.668.6868

Brant/Brantford Integrated Crisis:
1.866.811.7188

Haldimand-Norfolk REACH Crisis:
1.866.327.3224

Six Nations Crisis:
1.866.445.2204

LGBT Youth Line:
1.800.268.9688

Encourage Caring Support: Talking openly and honestly about emotional distress and suicide is okay. It will not make youth more suicidal or put the idea of suicide in their mind. If you are concerned about someone, ask them about it. If someone tells you they are suicidal, take them seriously and get help. Knowing how to acknowledge and respond to someone who shares their thoughts of emotional distress or suicide with you is important.

Don't judge them or their thoughts. Listen. Be caring and kind. Offer to stay with them. Offer to go with them to get help or to contact a crisis line.

Always feel free to talk to your Principal, Vice-Principal, school personnel or family doctor.